A Successful Education. A Successful Career.
A Successful You.

{ In 25 Years, We've Made 25 Million People More Valuable }

We opened our doors in 1982 with one-classroom; we now have more than 280 training centers in 56 countries. Over 25 million students have transformed their careers in New Horizons classrooms and have gone on to make their companies more successful. New Horizons continues to change the face of business every day, one student at a time.

In 25 years, New Horizons has:

- Become the largest independent training company in the world with over 280 centers in 56 countries.
- Transformed the careers of 25 million students.
- Had an immediate impact on employee job performance as proven by 1.5 million student evaluations showing that New Horizons training yields a 4:1 benefit-to-cost ratio, relative to the predicted increase in performance.
- Pioneered revolutionary learning methods, such as Integrated Learning and Mentored Learning, that have completely changed the way people learn, retain and apply new knowledge.
- Helped all 100 companies listed in Fortune magazine's 2006 ranking of America's 100 largest corporations and over half of the Global 100 achieve better business results through training.
- Become the largest network of Microsoft Gold Certified Partners for Learning Solutions with over 125 gold certified centers.

“I’d like to thank New Horizons for their assistance in my training for certifications and the Career Placement office for helping me find a job that suited my experience, abilities, and training. In three months time Jennifer, the Career Placement Advisor, was able to identify and set up communications between me and a number of companies. At least three of those companies were interested in hiring me, giving me an option of where I wanted to go. I now have the kind of job I wanted, administering a network for an international company. The training from New Horizons will be of great value to me and my employer.” - Paul Page

“In short, the New Horizons training track I completed supplemented my other computer experience perfectly. A perfect testament would be the employer I’m with now. My first attempt at delivering my resume, with the New Horizons network security specialist listed, was 100% successful. I am now living in Cary, NC working for Strategic Technologies Inc. as a systems engineer. From my perspective it was not only the certifications, but the hands on training my current employer liked most. For all of you thinking about attending class at New Horizons, don’t pass it up. Yes, you have to put the time into the training but will be very rewarding in the end. Not only will you have on paper what you’ve accomplished, but most importantly the confidence when interviewing.” - Kory Wertz

“After losing my job in March 2006, I realized I had to do something. Thankfully, I found New Horizons and started studying for the certification in July 2006. The online tutorials and added help with Mike helped me to succeed in every test. Immediately after passing my first test, the job offers started coming. Now I am a Technical Support Specialist with a very successful advertising agency. I would never have gotten to where I am without New Horizons. Their Career Counselor also helped me create a good resume and gave me some good interviewing skills. I am now preaching to my friends who want to advance more in IT to seek the help I did from New Horizons. Best ever!” - Mark Butler

{ Garnering Employers Respect }

“Every student we have hired has worked out great! We now employ many former New Horizons students on a full-time, long-term basis after their initial short term contracts were completed!”

- Donna McClanahan
Information Control Systems, Inc.

“I have been using Derrick over the past month with several projects. I wanted you to know that he is an exceptional team member. I like his flexibility as some of my jobs require same-day/next-day on-site response. Derrick has been extremely responsive and a pleasure to work with.”

- Bryan Haines, President
eTechnology Solutions

“We’ve had a good success rate with your students. As you already know, the two we got from you last year were more dedicated than those that have been with the company for several years. That says a lot about the students you offer to us as well as the school itself.”

- John Brinsfield
H&R Block

“One advantage of certification is that the person is easier to train, and more familiar with the many nuances and rules that have to be followed and understood when dealing with insurance companies. This makes things run more efficiently. The greatest thing I have seen so far with a person who is certified, is when they teach you how to handle a billing coding situation in a more profitable way!”

- Ben Hobbs
Hobbs Optometry

“I would like to commend the New Horizon Placement center, specifically Jennifer Davidson, for her continued support and assistance in providing infrastructure technologies with highly qualified candidates which we have placed within infrastructure’s headquarters and at various NYS agencies. Jennifer has been a wonderful recruiting asset, who I’ve called many times with short notice, to help place highly qualified candidates. Thank you Jennifer, for your continued support and I look forward to working with you and New Horizons in the future.”
